June 3, 2014 • 10:00 - 11:00 am CST

Wage and hour violations was the number one employment law violation in 2013 creating the highest back wage liability for employers in history. Employers must understand the rules and regulations to reduce this liability. SESCO will provide an overview of wage and hour accounting rules (minimum wage, recordkeeping, overtime) that impact the industry. The session will include an update on the companion exemption, the new executive order issued by the president which will have a significant impact on how you pay exempt salaried employees and compliance tips for both.

Healthcare Reform-How Will Your Business Be Affected in 2014 & Beyond

June 10, 2014 • 9:30 - 11:00 am CST

As employers and the American public evaluate the effects of healthcare reform on their businesses and families, SESCO has analyzed what these changes mean and how they may affect the world of employee benefits beyond medical coverage. Healthcare reform has significantly changed the shape of the discussion surrounding employee benefits. Employers now want to know what kinds of changes are needed to comply and when these changes must be made. Additionally, employers are seeking advice on what they should and shouldn't do in terms of healthcare and employee benefit packages and offerings. This informative Healthcare Reform session presented by SESCO Management Consultants will provide an overview of the responsibilities placed on employers, the penalties associated with non-compliance and the significant impact on strategic decisions facing employers of all sizes on the nature of their group health plans. SESCO will also discuss practical tips aimed at assisting employers to their obligations under this enacted legislation.
