

The Aide's Role in Understanding Depression

A Webinar • Thursday, December 14, 2017 • 2:00—3:00 p.m. CST

Presented by Cindy Morgan, RN, MSN, CHC, CHPN

The CDC estimates that one in ten adults in the United States reports depression. About 25 million Americans will have an episode of major depression this year alone but only half of them receive treatment. Depression is a leading cause of disability worldwide and represents a public health challenge. This disease may be experienced by people of any age group, any nationality or any socioeconomic level. Many times depression is not detected and therefore goes unmanaged. This presentation will focus on the manifestations of depression that patients may exhibit and the aide's role in caring for the depressed patient.

Use this session to meet your training requirements. All in-services emphasize the role of home care aides in observation and reporting. It is the responsibility of the home care company to determine if this workshop meets the specific requirements of its aides. The Missouri Department of Health & Senior Services affirms that this session meets the requirements found at 484.36[b] of the Medicare Conditions of Participation and for in-home service companies, this session meets the required standard for on-going training of aides.
