

The Aide's Role in Professionalism and Work Ethic in Home Care

A Webinar • Thursday, April 11, 2019 • 2:00—3:00 p.m. CST

Presented by Kathie Smith, RN, BSN

Providing care in a setting that enables one-to-one care offers opportunities for the client to be able to stay in their home and for the In-home aide to build strong relationships with the client and family. These relationships can feel rewarding to both the client and the In-home aide. While having that positive and caring relationship is important to the client's care, it is also important to remember that as an employee of an agency and as a home care provider in the home, certain standards need to be upheld. These standards help you to maintain a professional relationship with the client and family. This presentation will cover professionalism for the in-home aide.

Use this session to meet your training requirements. All in-services emphasize the role of home care aides in observation and reporting. It is the responsibility of the home care company to determine if this workshop meets the specific requirements of its aides. The Missouri Department of Health & Senior Services affirms that this session meets the requirements found at 484.36[b] of the Medicare Conditions of Participation and for in-home service companies, this session meets the required standard for on-going training of aides.
