

The Aide's Role in Nutrition and Hydration

A Webinar • Thursday, August 8, 2019 • 2:00—3:00 p.m. CST

Presented by Cindy Morgan, RN, MSN, CHC, CHPN

Nutrition and hydration are necessary to sustain life. The provision of food and water is frequently related to the providing of comfort and nourishment as well as to the giving of life and preserving of life. Adequate nutrition has many advantages to the human body. This presentation will explore some of those, such as healing, prevention and good health. We will also discuss the element of safety related to nutrition and hydration with a focus on the patient with advanced illness and those at end of life.

Use this session to meet your training requirements. All in-services emphasize the role of home care aides in observation and reporting. It is the responsibility of the home care company to determine if this workshop meets the specific requirements of its aides. The Missouri Department of Health & Senior Services affirms that this session meets the requirements found at 484.36[b] of the Medicare Conditions of Participation and for in-home service companies, this session meets the required standard for on-going training of aides.
