Improving Relationships: Exploring Implicit Bias

Webinar & Recording • Tuesday, November 10, 2020 • 1:00 — 3:00 pm CST

In this interactive workshop, we will look at implicit bias through the lens of compassion and empathy. The learning is made more meaningful because it helps to connect the concept of implicit bias to improving relationships with other people. We will look at the science of bias, how biases influence perceptions and behavior, and how biases may influence community relationships. We will explore and create ways together to reduce the bias effect thereby strengthening positive community relationships.

Objectives:

At the conclusion of this webinar, the participant will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of implicit bias
- Explain how implicit bias can impact services provided
- Create individual action plans to reduce the impact of implicit bias

Presenter: Dr. David Parker, collaborates with corporate and nonprofit organizations to create and sustain communities defined by authentic inclusion.

By his own definition, authentic inclusion is an environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives are respected and people are treated with an intentional sense of value. Through customized workshops, Dr. Parker gently helps participants learn about and actively build this kind of environment.

Bringing a long history of dynamic, intelligent, and expansive presence, he gladly shares his deep passion for the arts. In his workshops, he draws on his experience as an ASL (American Sign Language) interpreter to help others express feelings and new understandings. He incorporates popular music to set themes and invites movement to engage participants.
