

The Missouri Alliance for Home Care presents...

Job Design for Home Care Work: Perspectives from Employers and Home Care Aides

Webinar & Recording • Wednesday, February 22, 2023 • 9:00—10:00 a.m. CST

Home-based care is a rapidly growing sector that has become increasingly important to individuals, families, providers, and payers. The ways in which agencies create the work environment for home care aides is not adequately documented and may be changing rapidly with labor market innovations. The webinar will highlight a LeadingAge LTSS Center @UMass Boston study documenting how home care agencies address job design and the overall work environment for home care aides. We will share how home care agency leaders and aides view the organizational structure, job design, and implementation of policies and procedures that support the recruitment, hiring, training, career advancement, and ongoing tasks performed by the aides in the home environment. We also will provide recommendations that emerged from the interviews with both agency leaders and the home care aides.

Presenter: Natasha Bryant, Senior Director Workforce Research & Development, LeadingAge LTSS Center @UMass
